

Non-stationarity is inherent to brain signals

Robustness for BCI is usually obtained at the classifier level

We propose to leverage this at the feature extraction level

